

RACE STARTS

How close should you be to the kart in front of you on the approach to a race start?

What can you do with your pedals to enable you to get a better take away?

When starting from position 2, where should you have the kart placed compared to pole position?

Starting further back in the pack, where should you be focusing your attention so you can avoid any potential accidents?

What section of the race track enables you to potentially make up the most amount of positions?
